Success Through Failure Podcast

Action Plan Episode #436

The Grand Finale: My 3 Biggest Takeaways from Hosting Success Through Failure

For the finale, I'm taking you on a journey down memory lane, recounting the origins of the #STFpod. From the nervous stumbles in front of 200 people at the University of Virginia to the TEDx stage, where the idea for this podcast was born. I'm also sharing with you the three biggest takeaways from producing Success Through Failure— from podcasting bloopers to mastering the art of microphone mishaps, and everything in between.

Now, I'm releasing this holiday surprise, not as an exit, but as an exciting transition. So why the change, you ask? Well, I'm pivoting this show to a new, more relevant title and brand that will speak MORE DIRECTLY TO YOU. Stay tuned until the end to learn more about the new and improved podcast.

So, for the last time, take the time to get clear on your goals and embrace failure as a stepping stone on your path to success.

Show Notes

What I learned from Hosting Success Through Failure Podcast

1. Biggest takeaway 1: Failure is far more common with high performers than I ever realized. Because there is growth in embracing failure.
 2. Biggest Takeaway 2: Success takes work. Overcoming failure requires active effort and mindset work. You can't just listen to a podcast. You have to DO something.
 3. Biggest Takeaway #3: Just start. You're GOING to fail. Get it over with. You have to first suck! And you'll KEEP failing! Also, be consistent in action and embrace the learning process.
- Big Announcement: Tune in next week for the rebranded podcast we'll call, "Success for the Athletic Minded Man," targeting men with an athletic mindset striving for success in business and life.
